

Congregational Christian Partnership

The purpose of Congregational Christian Partnership is to nurture, enhance and grow the Christian Spiritual Life of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches (NACCC), both churches and individuals gathered in the Congregational Christian tradition, by partnering with clergy, regional associations, host committees for the NACCC Annual Meeting, boards, divisions, commissions, committees, officers and staff.

CCP defines Christian Spiritual Life as being a Christ-centered, Christian worldview that includes prayer, devotionals, Bible study, worship, study, and work in the silence, through the use of retreats, spiritual guidance, printed materials, the Annual Meeting and other means of communication such as the telephone and the internet.

To implement this purpose, Congregational Christian Partnership (CCP) is dedicated to preparing a clergy and lay people trained to lead retreats and workshops, serve as spiritual mentors and guides, and produce resources that foster spiritual development.

If you would like to join CCP, contact Rev. Dr. Lori Wiley, character@juno.com, 603-472-2799 or Helen Cunningham, hc6645@gmail.com, 603-560-6645.
