

Dear Friends,

In the last two days, the town of Paradise, California has been destroyed by fire. The NACCC has a member church in this town called Craig Memorial Congregational Church. The pastor is Andrew McHenry.

Andrew has been good to post updates on FaceBook. Bob Hellam, Nor Cal moderator, contacted Andrew directly. Andrew's response to Bob is pasted below:

Thanks for your concern Bob. Please keep us in your prayers. All the people I've talked to made it out safely but it was scary, with flames on both sides of road and traffic trickling along.

We have one member no one has been able to track down, and she's been listed as missing on the news. She's our big concern right now.

Hillary and I are fine. We're staying in the guest bedroom of a family in Chico.

I'll let you know once I find out about our building. There's a good chance it's burned down, but I haven't heard a definitive word yet.

God bless you in your ministry,

Andrew in Chico

We ask that you pray for them. We will send out an update once we have more information.

Thank you.

Blessings,

Linda Miller
