The Morgan Scott Project provides critical home repairs, utility bill assistance, and healthcare financial aid for those in need in the Morgan and Scott counties of Tennessee.

Through counseling services, community gardening, and the Good Earth Program, they seek to foster wellness and self-sufficiency in their community.

Their ministry includes offering educational support for children, youth, and seniors, helping build stronger futures through learning.

Additionally, the Morgan Scott Project supports domestic violence shelters, homeless centers, and children's programs with compassion and care.
